The cup fell from nervous fingers . . .

The china cup as big as an AFB fell from tiny white nerveless fingers no bigger than hairs . . .

"Sit down. I am your spiritual advisor. Sit down and have a cup of tea with me. See, this is the chair. There is the cup. The tea boy will bring the tea shortly. When the tea boy brings the tea, you may pour some of it into your cup. That cup there, on the table."

"Thank you. This is quite a nice University you have here. A University constructed entirely of three mile-high sponges!"

"Yes it is rather remarkable."

"What is that very large body with hundreds and hundreds of legs moving across the horizon from left to right in a steady, carefully considered line?"

"That is the tenured faculty crossing to the other shore on the plane of the feasible."

"And this tentacle here of the Underwater Life Sciences Department . . ."

"That is not a tentacle but the Department itself. Devouring a whole cooked chicken furnished by the Department of Romantic Poultry."

"And those running men?"

"Those are the runners."

"What are they running from?"

"They're not running from, they're running toward. Trained in the Department of Great Expectations."

"Is that my Department?"

"Do you blush easily?"
